THE PITCH

A film creator who finds the screenings, and covers them

Most film creators react from the couch. I'm in the theater on opening night, at the advance screening, and at the park event, capturing the moment fans want to be part of. That dual position, discovering screenings and covering them, is what makes me useful to studios, distributors, and parks. Small following, outsized reach: multiple videos in the millions and a film-fan audience that keeps coming back (97% of YouTube views come from non-subscribers).
